Glad to here. FYI, exchanging some emails with Roux. They are going to submit their response to comments to the interim deliverables and just note that they will review David's memo when they receive it, in order to keep us on schedule.

Also FYI, while the nice weather has been bad for hunting, the fishing has been outstanding. I caught these on Hauser Lake last Friday.

I got a cow elk south of Dell. Funny, I shot it on the same day as the one I got last year, an hour different in the time and only ¼ mile from where I shot the other one. Deer was slow, of course I was mainly trophy hunting and decided I didn't want to shoot a doe the last day on my property.

Biggest disappointment was I didn't get an antelope tag and didn't get out hunting enough.

Have a good weekend, Mike

After getting my two antelope, hunting got way slow. Never got any snow around here to push the elk around. Saw lots of elk sitting in irrigated fields with other hunters glassing them, and game wardens glassing the hunters. Charlie Coleman had one of those coveted Elkhorns bull permits and he got skunked.

How did you do?

Hi Mike:

Just a friendly reminder that CFAC/Roux is still waiting for your approval letter. Here is the draft letter I sent earlier.

Also, FYI. David Berry is in the process of revising the Nelson Tunnel memo referenced in one of the comments to the risk assessment interim deliverables. According to Erin, the earliest David will have the memo ready is the third week of December. Roux is waiting on this to revise their interim deliverable.

Have a good weekend,

Mike,

Roux and our risk assessors reviewed DEQ's additional comments on the BERA WP. Roux will ensure that all these comments are considered as we evaluate the risk assessment data and we will address these comments in the Baseline Ecological Risk Assessment Report that will be submitted March 2019.

As noted below, the comments do not require further action at this time and we would like to proceed with the BERA Work Plan (submitted November 15, 2018) approval letter.

Thank you, Laura

Hi Laura,

See Dick's email below. Make sure there isn't anything in his/contractor's comments that need any further action. Let me know before I approve BERA work plan.

Thanks Mike

Mike,

The DEQ appreciates the opportunity to review the various work plans, deliverables, comments, and responses to comments associated with the CFAC RIFS BHHRA and BERA.

Attached are some comments on the October 25, 2018 version of the BERA work plan. It is not necessary for CFAC to respond to these comments with an updated version of the BERA work plan. The DEQ would like CFAC to address these comments in the BERA report, scheduled for March, 2019.

Please contact me or Katie Morris if you have any questions or comments.

Thank you.

Dick Sloan

Hi Dick,

CFAC/Roux has accepted our comments and incorporated them. I wanted to see if you have anything further before I send off the BERAWP approval.

Mike

Mr. Cirian,

We received CDM's additional comments on the BERA WP yesterday. CFAC/Roux agree with the comments and all the requested edits were incorporated into a final document.

This e-mail is to notify you that a link to download the Final BERA WP (dated November 15, 2018) has been sent via our secure file exchange. We have also included a redline version with just the most recent edits for your convenience.

If these edits are acceptable to you, please provide an EPA approval letter for the Final BERA WP.

Thank you, Laura
